

SX3800 - 4 Channel System

The Ultimate Facial System

This is our premiere facial system. That uses our patented Constant Waveform Morphology to monitor skin impedance across four independent channel outputs. The SX3800 will allow you to treat the most challenging skin types that come into your treatment room. The power in the SX3800 is not matched by any other machine on the market. You will be able to lift, tone and tighten facial muscles for clients who have deep wrinkles and severe skin laxity.

What you can treat with the SX3800

You will be able to help clients to diminish the appearance of crow's feet, the dreaded 11's between the eyebrows, you can lift the mid-face to help reduce any sagging in the nasal labial fold, you can also lift drooping jowls and help to tighten up loose skin on the neck that can lead to the "turkey wattle". A series of twice weekly treatments will produce cumulative and profound results.

The SX3800 will also be able to help clients find a luminous glow to their skin. Clients who are treated with this machine will show brighter skin that glows with a renewed fullness. These are the benefits of the improved hydration and oxygenation that are the result of a dynamic microcurrent treatment.

The technology in the SX3800

The SX3800 features 4 independent signal channels of power allowing for more performance volume of the signals per square millimeter of skin surface area being treated with our patented 4 prong Pico Probes.

Bio-feedback monitoring computer

The SX3800 Facial Rejuvenation System has a bio-feedback monitoring computer that continuously monitors total body impedance. This makes automatic adjustments to maintain a pure waveform even at very low (Nano) levels of current.

Level 1 body toning & anti-cellulite

The SX3800 can also be used to work on areas of the body to improve superficial skin surfacing i.e. improve the décolleté by minimising crepiness, toning and tightening the arms, legs, and buttox.

The SX3800 can also improve and reduce the appearance of cellulite on the body. The Dynamic Microcurrent technology oxygenates the skin cells by increasing blood and lymphatic flow.

Amplitude Control Knobs

The technician has the ability to make fine adjustments to accommodate different skin types for maximum performance.

Rear Panel

The SX3800 is built with the highest quality medical grade UL 60601-3 power supply. The power input port will automatically recognise any worldwide voltage (110v – 240v). All SX series machines are individually safety inspected by an independent agency to comply with UL medical grade safety standards 60601-3.
